Aboriginal Liaison Nurses (ALN)

To speak to an ALN call:
250-812-1464 or 250-480-8333

The Aboriginal Liaison Nurse (ALN) provides support to Aboriginal people who are in hospital. (Royal Jubilee or Victoria General Hospitals).

The ALN can:

- contribute to the delivery of culturally safe care for Aboriginal patients and their families.
- clarify patient and family expectations and act as a patient advocate.
- work with Non-Insured Health Benefits (NIHB), First Nations Health Authority (FNHA) Nuu-Chah-Nulth Tribal Council (NTC) and Inter-Tribal Health Authority (ITHA) as needed.
- connect people with community services; explain health care issues.
- refer patients with Pastoral Care if requested.
- assist with discharge planning.

Aboriginal Health Dietitian

Phone: 250-370-8258

The Aboriginal Health Dietitian provides services to the nine First Nations communities and the urban Aboriginal population in Southern Vancouver Island. The Dietitian can:

- provide nutrition information with a strong focus on food security
- support communities as they improve access to health, traditional and modern foods
- link communities with Island Health services; and provide diabetes prevention and education workshops.

Diabetes Nurse Educator

Phone: 250-370-8111 Ext. 13773

The Diabetes Nurse Educator provides outreach services to the South Island Aboriginal communities. The diabetes nurse can:

- teach you and your family about diabetes prevention; support people on how to stay healthy with diabetes; and provide education around diabetes management (how to stay healthy with diabetes, blood sugar, monitoring medication and insulin management).

All Nations' Healing Room (ANHR) Royal Jubilee - Patient Care Centre

The All Nations' Healing room was designed, based on input from Elders, to provide a culturally safe, quiet and peaceful space within the Patient Care Center that is welcoming and open to Aboriginal people. This room offers space where Aboriginal people can perform traditional healing practices or ceremonies while in hospital such as smudging, cleansing and singing. The doors and walls of the room display carvings designed by local Coast Salish artists Charles Elliott and Doug LaFortune, also a painting recently donated in SEP, 2012 by the late Métis artist Frank Lewis.

Island Metis Community Services

345 Wale Rd
Victoria, BC V9B-6X2
Phone: 250-391-9924

Métis Community Services' goal is to help families establish relationships of peer support and mutual aid as well as providing the time-limited services as part of our mandate. The dual and sometimes conflicting goals of family preservation and child safety/wellness are advanced through our cultural programming and the involvement of extended family networks. Family Group Conferencing and other family-finding ventures are used to broaden the caring circle around the child and to create more safety.

Métis Nation of British Columbia Health Information

Phone: 1-800-940-1150

Link: <http://www.mnbc.ca/about-mnbc>

In May, 2006 the Métis Nation of British Columbia signed a historic Métis Nation Relationship Accord with the Province of British Columbia. The Accord committed both the Métis Nation BC and the Province of BC to close the gap between Métis Citizens in this province and other British Columbians in six key areas:

- Health (Community, Family, and Individual)
- Housing
- Education (Life-long Learning)
- Economic Opportunities
- Collaborative Renewal of the Tripartite Processes
- Métis Identification and Data Collection

In response to the Accord the Métis Nation of BC established a planning process to address how the Métis Nation itself was going to make the Accord meaningful for Métis Citizens. As part of the process it was determined that the collection of data from Métis Citizens to provide baseline information for our objectives was necessary.
